

Alex Aguilar

Alex Aguilar is a dedicated entrepreneur and community leader making a difference in Alexandria, Virginia. Raised in Northern Virginia, specifically Falls Church, Alex has deep roots in the local community. Since 2015, he has been the proud owner of Jen Contracting, a successful contracting business, and La Patrona Market & Carryout, a thriving local market.

Beyond his business ventures, Alex Aguilar is known for his commitment to giving back to the community. He has a passion for teaching young people the trades and is actively involved in mentoring and educating the next generation of skilled workers. Under his guidance, Alex aims to empower young individuals and provide them with the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in the trades industry. With his strong work ethic, entrepreneurial spirit, and dedication to community service, Alex Aguilar continues to be a driving force for positive change in Alexandria.